AsianSIL YOUTH FORUM 2015

Organized by Asian Society of International Law and Asian Law Students' Association (Thailand National Chapter)
In conjunction with the 5th Biennial Conference of the Asian Society of International Law 2015
Theme: International Law and the Changing Economic and Political Landscape in Asia
25-26 November 2015 Bangkok, Thailand

ASIANSIL
ASIAN SOCIETY OF INTERNATIONAL LAW

Overview

In light of the changing economic and political landscape in Asia, there is a need for reassessment of legal dimensions and understanding in response to these changes. The 5th Biennial Conference of the Asian Society of International Law 2015 will be a timely forum for such reassessment and a platform of discussion for lawyers and legal academics from within the region and outside the region. The conference will include topics such as the legal aspects on regional economic integration and cooperation, investment, free trade areas, financial cooperation, commercial arbitration, international intellectual property protection, international taxation, political and social integration and cooperation, transnational crimes, international humanitarian law, international adjudication, dispute resolutions, legal impacts on the environment and energy, and impacts on the legal dimension of doing business in various parts of the Asian Region.

Realizing that the youth are the future and their leadership is important for the changes in Asia, and following the success of the Youth Forum organized by Thailand Institute of Justice (TIJ) during the Inter-sessional AsianSIL Conference in June this year on the topic of the Rule of Law, the Asian Society of International Law (ASIL) will hold the AsianSIL Youth Forum 2015 in conjunction with the 5th Biennial Conference in November 2015.

The forum aims to replicate what will occur in the actual conference, with the topics of Legal Aspects on Regional Economic Integration and Cooperation, Legal Aspects on Regional Integration and Cooperation in Political and Social Dimensions, Legal Aspects on Regional Integration and Cooperation in Environment and Energy, and Changing Approach to International Law.

It is hoped that the youth forum will create the platform for young law and non-law students in Asia to discuss, exchange views and experiences to help shape the changing economic and political landscape in Asia. At the same time, the forum is expected to foster new friendship and relationships among the new generations of Asia.

About

Asian Society of International Law (AsianSIL)¹

The Asian Society of International Law (AsianSIL) is an international non-partisan, non-profit and non-governmental organization with the following objectives:

To promote research, education and practice of international law by serving as a centre of activities among international law scholars and practitioners in Asia and elsewhere, in a spirit of partnership with other relevant international, regional and national societies and organizations;

To foster and encourage Asian perspectives of international law; and

To promote awareness of and respect for international law in Asia.

To these ends, the functions of the Society include organizing conferences, regional and subregional seminars, workshops and other meetings; undertaking publication for the Society, including the proceedings of the conference organized by the Society; and collecting and disseminating information relating to research, academic activities and other developments relevant to Asia in the field of international law.

Asian Law Students' Association National Chapter Thailand (ALSA Thailand)²

ALSA is a non-political, non-profit association that welcomes cultural diversity and advances the professionalism and hard-working ethic which are the evident characteristic of Asians. ALSA has become the association that provides a venue for active law students to develop their skills and knowledge to become future leading lawyers.

Objectives of ALSA Thailand³

1. To promote better understanding through exchanging and communicating among Thai law students;
2. To motivate Thai law students to develop a creative spirit through a network of joint activities among Thai law students.
3. To encourage the enhancement of the capabilities of Thai law students to become internationally minded, socially responsible, academically committed and legally skilled.

Academic Activities

The academic activities are primarily the main focus of the AsianSIL Youth Forum. The theme of the forum will follow that of the 5th Biennial Conference of the Asian Society of International Law 2015, which is 'International Law and the Changing Economic and Political Landscape in Asia'. Throughout these activities, participants are urged to freely explore the minds and sincerely exchange the opinions in pursuit of a strong bond among Asian youths. The activities aim to improve delegates to become internationally minded, socially responsible, academically committed and professionally skilled. At the same time, through various academic activities, the AsianSIL Youth Forum aims to unlock the human potential of youth by enhancing their leadership and essential skills, to provide youth with an opportunity to help shape international law and public policy by recommending solutions to global issues regarding international law and the changing of economic and political landscape and create a network among youth within the Asian region.

-Youth Panel

The selected applicants through the Call-For-Paper track will be given an opportunity to present their papers to all of the youth participants at the Youth Panel. This panel aims to foster leadership in youth as the speakers and at the same time, spark the inspiration for other youth to take the more challenging step in the international stage.

-Discussion Groups

Drawing on the students from different countries all over Asian region, the discussions will provide a great opportunity for participants to widen their horizon on topics relating to international law and the changing economic and political landscape through group discussions, at the same time, allowing them to present and exchange ideas on engaging youth in mainstreaming international law.

The discussions are divided into 4 groups. Each group will discuss different topics relating to international law and the changing of economic and political landscape as follows:

1. Discussion Group A: Legal Aspects on Regional Economic Integration and Cooperation
2. Discussion Group B: Legal Aspects on Regional Integration and Cooperation in Political and Social Dimensions
3. Discussion Group C: Legal Aspects on Regional Integration and Cooperation in Environmental and Energy
4. Discussion Group D: Changing Approach to International Law

-The 5th Biennial Conference of the Asian Society of International Law 2015

Participants are welcomed to partake the exclusive opening ceremony of the 5th Biennial Conference of the Asian Society of International Law 2015 where the President of the AsianSIL will deliver a welcome remark and Her Royal Highness Princess Bajarakitiyabha Mahidol, Honory Advisory Chairperson of Thailand's Organizing Committee for the 5th Biennial Conference of the Asian Society of International Law will address an opening keynote. Further, the participants will be able to join the various plenaries where many reputable and distinguished experts from around Asia are invited to be guest speakers. This opportunity will serve as an eye-opener event where participants can harvest new insight into international law and the changing economic and political landscape and related issues like never before.

Venue

Thailand Institute of Justice (TIJ)

GPF Building, Witthayu Road, Bangkok

Application Instruction

The AsianSIL Youth Forum welcomes applications from all Asian undergraduate students from all faculties and schools who have been actively involved in international law and the changing economic and political landscape issues or those who are interested in exploring more on all the 4 topics under the theme: International Law and the Changing Economic and Political Landscape in Asia. Good command of English is also a prerequisite.

The selected applicants will be able to join the event as well as participating in the discussion group of their choice. All interested applicants are invited to follow the procedures and requirements in the invitation poster at <http://asiansil.org> or www.facebook.com/asiansilyouthforum2015.
